

The Ultimate Reason To Do A Great Job

Speaker: Dennis Marcellino

Dennis Marcellino is a speaking veteran and is the author of Why Are We Here? (The Scientific Answer To This Age-old Question) and Sweeping It Under The Drug. He has worked in engineering and has been a counselor, based on a history that includes 210 college units in science, psychology, philosophy, theology and spirituality. He also is a former member of some top music groups, including: Sly & The Family Stone, The Elvin Bishop Group, and The Tokens, who had a hit record that sold 12-1/2 million copies: "The Lion Sleeps Tonight". Although he continues to have successful CD releases, he says that his primary passion now (and has been for many years) is: helping others to see the absolute laws on how to elevate their lives.

- How we can not only stay the course, but be an inspiration to others (the ripple effect).
- Scientific proof as to what our ultimate purpose is in life.
- A seven second technique that can bring you into the ultimate perspective.
